IPMS SOUVENIR CARD

The 1999 souvenir card theme "Celebrating the Turn of the Century" depicts United States silver certificates issued after 1891.

The $2 Silver Certificate, Series 1899, features the portrait of George Washington and the allegory "Mechanics and Agriculture". The portrait, Miscellaneous Die #4451, was engraved by G.F.C. Smillie in 1898. The vignette, Miscellaneous Die #4475, completed in 1899 was also engraved by Smillie. Other engravers of the face of this note include Robert Ponickau, George U. Rose, Jr., G.F.C. Smillie, Frederick W. Montgomery, and Marcus W. Baldwin.

These Silver Certificates, Miscellaneous Die #4811, consisted of $1, $2 and $5 denominations and are notable for many signature combinations. This note bears the signatures of Judson W. Lyons, Register of the Treasury and Ellis H. Roberts, Treasurer.

You may purchase the deluxe single note through mail order, the BIEP visitor's center and at exhibit shows while supplies last. Customers should expect to receive order forms in the mail shortly or check our website at www.moneyfactory.com.

In the survey you wanted to add uncut currency sheets of eight (8) notes, in $1, $2 and $5 denominations. Effective June 7, 1999 these items will be available for sale.

Guess What? . . .

Every time the Bureau of Engraving and Printing (BIEP) participates in numismatic or philatelic shows, customers ask that famous question, "Are you giving away any samples today?" Only on the second Tuesday of the month" exclaims, Mary Halsall, BIEP's Exhibits Coordinator. The Bureau participated in the Bay State Coin Show February 26-28, 1999, at the Radisson Hotel located in Boston, Massachusetts. The BIEP Marketing Team initiated an incentive for customers who signed up for the mailing list. We will continue to give away a sheet of uncut currency at upcoming shows whenever customers add their name to the mailing list. Congratulations to Mr. Christopher Di Tomaso of Feeding Hills, Massachusetts. Mr. Di Tomaso was the winner of a 16 subject $1 sheet of currency.

Customers already on the mailing list will be entered into a contest for the low serial deluxe single note. To become eligible, you must place an order for any of the new $20 products through the mail. Two winners will be randomly selected. Good Luck!

Federal Reserve Banks

Three years ago the Bureau of Engraving and Printing started selling uncut sheets of currency at the Federal Reserve Banks with the Treasurer Mary Ellen Withrow. The first sales venture was held at the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank of Ohio in November 1996. The second sales venture was held at the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta in March 1997. The uncut $5 federal reserve notes were sold at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston in November 1997.

During 1998 the Bureau visited two federal reserve banks, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis in August and the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago in October.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing conducted sales at the Baltimore Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond on April 27-28. Mary Ellen Withrow was in attendance.

Customers were able to purchase uncut sheets of currency and the Federal Reserve Note Cards. The note cards (five cards per box) depict the Federal Reserve Board and sell for $10.00. The Bureau plans to visit the remaining Federal Reserve Banks by the end of the year 2002.

The Bureau visited the Dallas Federal Bank of Dallas in Dallas, Texas June 8-9, 1999.

The Duck Stamp Set "Greater Scaup"

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Federal Duck Stamp Office's April 30, 1999, Federal Duck Stamp Bulletin announced the issuance of its 13th version of the Federal Duck Stamp Souvenir Card. The 1999-2000 stamp design is a pair of Greater Scaups flying in an overcast sky as a hunter and his dog watch from a small boat in the distance created from an acrylic painting by James Hautman, the 1998 Federal Duck Stamp Contest winning artist from Plymouth, Minnesota. Mr. Hautman is a third time winner of beautiful paintings graced on the front of the Federal Duck Stamp. This year's souvenir card has a wood-grain-like background which frames a striking picture of the newest duck stamp.

The Federal Duck Stamp Souvenir Card is presented in two formats; mint with 1999-2000 stamp in a separate glassine, and post office canceled with the 1999-2000 stamp adhered to the card containing two "Endangered Species" 33 cent postage stamps and a Greater Scaup pictorial postal cancellation from Washington, D.C., First Day of Sale and Signing Ceremony (July 1, 1999). The cancellation was designed exclusively by Mr. Hautman for use on the souvenir card.

Sales from the Federal Duck Stamp Program are used to purchase and protect vital wetlands for waterfowl and several other wildlife species. Since 1934, millions of Duck Stamp dollars have contributed to preserving about four million acres of wetland habitat in the National Wildlife Refuge System.

The size of the Duck Stamp card is 8 X 10 inches

SOUVENIR CARD PROGRAM

by Mary Halsall

Since the late 1960's the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has produced souvenir cards to commemorate its participation in numismatic or philatelic events, and other activities. Each uniquely designed card features rare engravings that are reduced onto high quality paper. The result is a new masterpiece created from historic dies and printed by expert banknote printers. The Bureau is very proud that it has satisfied thousands of collectors for 30 years who say that this is an affordable way to collect banknote, rare stamp and other unique engravings.

The Souvenir Card Program is part of the information and education efforts of the Bureau. Its purpose is to inform and educate the public about the Bureau and its historic and continuing role in the production of United States Securities.

The production of souvenir card quantities are limited, and sold within a specific time frame.

THE SOUVENIR CARD COLLECTORS SOCIETY

by Arthur Benjamin

The Souvenir Card Collectors Society was organized in 1981, with 222 charter members. The Society is devoted to the study and cataloging of all recognized souvenir cards. This society developed its own recognized numbering system for souvenir cards known as the SCCS Numbering System.

Modern souvenir cards issued by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing usually commemorate numismatic and philatelic shows. That is only a small part of the collecting field. Souvenir cards have been traced back to the mid 1800's.

The society studies those cards that meet the general criteria of: Momentos or souvenirs of a particular occasion honoring a person or place including expositions, exhibitions and political conventions. They are usually examples of the finest printer's or engraver's art of that time. Most are printed on high quality card-paper using intaglio techniques.

The society publishes a quarterly journal that is sent to all members. Each year they print their own intaglio souvenir card, which is distributed only to their members. They have an active "member's only" auction each quarter and provide information on new issues. For further information please contact: Dana Marr, Secretary, SCCS PO Box 4155, Tulsa, OK 74159, Email:DMARR5569@aol.com
